Ezel residence is burglarized on Monday

Home was also invaded during string of county thefts last spring

By Miranda Cantrell James

Law enforcement officials are investigating a second burglary at an Ezel home that was previously invaded during the series of thefts that occurred throughout Morgan County last April and May.

The residence of Gary and Loretta Ross Havens at 582 Robinson Branch Rd. was broken into between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. on Monday, July 21.

Loretta Ross Havens, a nurse at Morgan County Health Center, said she was at work while her husband, a custodian at Morgan County High School, was away from home when someone entered their house through the front door and took the following items:

- A digital camera.
- Several pieces of jewelry.
- Some pocket change.

The residence was also burglarized while the couple was at work on April 1, when invaders entered through the basement door and sliding glass back door and took several pieces of jewelry, pocket change and other miscellaneous items.

Kentucky State Police officials made no arrests for the first invasion.

The current case remains under investigation by KSP Trooper Jonathan Sizemore. Anyone with information regarding either of these burglaries is urged to contact the KSP Morehead Post #8 at 606-784-4127.

At the July 15 blood drive in Morgan County, Joshua Alexander Haney became the first 16-year-old in the state to donate blood. His great-grandfather, Edwin Benton, was recently honored for organizing blood drives in Morgan County for the Kentucky Blood Center for the past 20 years.

Morgan boy state's first 16-year-old blood donor

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Joshua Alexander Haney of Morgan County at 8:00 a.m. on July 15, 2008, became the first 16-year old to donate blood in the state of Kentucky under a new Kentucky law that allows 16-year-olds to donate blood with signed parental consent. Joshua is the great-grandson of Mr. Edwin Benton, who was recently honored by the Kentucky Blood Center for organizing blood drives in Morgan County for the past 20 years.

The Kentucky Blood Center officials hail the change as a safe, prudent opportunity to expand the blood donor base.

"This will be very beneficial in increasing the range of eligible blood donors. The blood supply is always teetering near the edge of a shortage and we have to ensure that as many Kentuckians as possible are given the chance to donate," said KBC spokesperson Jim Tinker.

"This is a safe, sound decision that has been enacted in many other states," he added.

KBC officials hope to see a 30 percent increase in blood donations made at high school blood drives in the coming year. That equates to an additional 2,000 blood donations.

The Kentucky Blood Center is a non-profit organization dedicated to ensuring a safe, adequate blood supply for 67 Kentucky hospitals and clinics thanks to generous blood donors in more than 60 Kentucky counties.

The next Morgan County Blood Drive will be conducted Sept. 11 at the Community Center Basement from 12>00 noon to 7:30 p.m.

Ky. 191 to be closed today

Personnel from the Kentucky Department of Highways, Morgan County Maintenance, will replace a drainage pipe on Ky. 191 on Thursday, July 24.

The work will take place near mile marker 7, near Caney.

The project will begin around 9 a.m. and will continue until approximately 5 p.m. During this time, the road will be closed to through traffic.

Is West Liberty Really Safe At Night?

Procyonidae Cancrivoros and the Didelphidae are invading city in numbers

By W. Lynn Nickell

It is becoming more evident that the City of West Liberty is being invaded by Procyonidae! Three have been trapped our neighborhood in the last couple of weeks — along with a companion of theirs, the Didelphidae!

The Procyonidae is related to the panda of China. He is about 32 inches long and can weigh up to 25 pounds. He has a stout body covered with long, coarse hair and can be vicious. They will eat most anything, and corn is a delicacy for them.

The Didelphidae are rat-like in appearance with furry bodies. They are marsupials carrying their young (which are as small as a honeybee when born) in a pouch on their abdomen. They are the only marsupials in North America. When grown, they have sharp claws and teeth. In fact, they have 50 teeth — the most of any other North American mammal.

The common enemy of these nuisances is the dog. But since the city council has passed a dog ordinance stating that dogs must be confined, these creatures are running rampant in West Liberty.

What to do? Nothing seems to deter them. Putting a light in the garden only illuminates the produce for them to pick out what they want. Playing a radio in the garden, as some have suggested, only provides them music to listen to while they eat your corn!

Here are three suggestions that might work:

- For safety's sake, keep the small children indoors from dusk until dawn, as they seem to be nocturnal (the animals, not the children!)

- Start a K-9 Corps and assign a dog to each city policeman to patrol the residential areas at night and keep these creatures away.

- Have Rep. Stacy and Sen. Stivers pass a bill in Frankfort for a three-prong pilot program to eradicate the animals from the city. This bill would provide free live traps to gardeners, compounds to place the animals after they have been caught, and funds to send them to Tennessee!

- Better yet, have the vocational school design a robotic dog, which would be battery-operated. It would have the capacity to run all night around our gardens and bark every five minutes. The city could supply one to each gardener within city limits.

By now you probably know that the two culprits I am referring to are the raccoon and opossum. I have a small garden in my backyard (one block from Main Street) and am having as much fun catching critters in a live trap as gardening. I wake up about 6 a.m. in anticipation of what I have caught. It is a lot like running trot lines — you don't know what you have caught until you raise the trot line out of the water!

Raccoons and opossums are fascinating creatures. I did not know the raccoon was related to the panda family until I did some research about them. I certainly did not know that they can be as vicious as they are!

So far, I have caught three raccoons, one opossum and two cats! It is evident that someone's dog used to keep my garden free of these scavengers. Without a doubt, the problem will become worse.

Just making fun, city council!

The entire festival was dedicated to Mr. Dunn, who has been a part of this fine festival since the beginning in 1996.

ENERGY SAVING TIPS:

Porch Light

The outdoor porch or post lamp is one of the highest used light fixtures in a home, and is the perfect place to install ENERGY STAR qualified lighting products. Many compact fluorescent light bulbs (CFLs) will fit easily into existing porch lights. Or install a new ENERGY STAR qualified outdoor fixture that saves energy through advanced CFL technology, a motion sensor and/or a photocell that turns the light on only when someone is present or on at night and off in the morning.

But most of all I hope you ll had time to spend with loved ones, family and friends and made some memories you can cherish for a very long time. When we get older, the memories we made in our youth become a lot more important. So good luck and best wishes in the upcoming school year, and remember you make Morgan County proud.

As I will be checking bus turn-arounds, roads, etc., in our district in the next week or so, any of the bus drivers who know of a problem area or repairs that need to be done for the safety of our kids, let me know or if you want me to go with you and look at your route, give me a call at 743-3675, 743-2901, or cell 776-7762.

Let's all work together to make this a safe and prosperous school year for our kids.

BLUEGRASS FESTIVAL A BIG HIT

The annual bluegrass was a big hit as usual. The rain didn't dampen spirits of bluegrass fans. As performances of local bands played so did bluegrass greats.

We consider ourselves lucky to have the festival for free. As a longtime fan of bluegrass, I've been to many festivals. This is the only one that is free. These festivals usually cost lots of money to the fans. The entertainers still get paid for their performances as well as the cost of $250 a day for the use of the park. How lucky we are to be entertained for free. Many thanks to Lanny Franklin and the committee.

KENTUCKY'S BANKS AMONG NATION'S SAFEST

Dear Editor,
On behalf of Kentucky's banking industry, and on behalf of Kentucky Bankers Association member banks and thrifts doing business in Kentucky, I want to take an opportunity to address consumer concerns and, hopefully, to alleviate fears and answer questions.

There has been a lot of local and syndicated press relative to the housing market crisis, the IndyMac Bank issues and the state of the banking industry in general. While there is no doubt that we are in difficult financial times, we still have to keep the problems in perspective.

We are, right now, entering an economic environment that is as bad as we have seen in more than 30 years, during which time Americans have had the good fortune to live in a growing economy. And, that growing economy has left us in a pretty good position, from a banking industry perspective, to weather a downturn.

The growing economy has allowed banks to grow capital, which in turn allows banks to invest in their communities through increased business and consumer loans. Increased business loans help stimulate business growth, which in turn stimulates economic health. This is exactly what has been and is happening in Kentucky. Kentucky banks, unlike some other lenders, have been more responsible in their lending practices and are not saddled with the burden of controlling high defaults on risky loans.

Kentucky banks are regularly and historically recognized by the FDIC as one of the highest ranking markets for bank safety and soundness.

Since the creation of the FDIC in 1933, there have only been two years with no bank failures - 2005 and 2006. There have been more than 3,500 failures nationwide since 1934. Even though there are bank failures almost every year, there have only been 44 in Kentucky since 1934 (22 of which were before 1940) and none since 1991.

Of course, such statistics provide little comfort to people whose dollars are already being squeezed from so many different directions and they are looking for reassurance that THEIR BANK AND THEIR MONEY are safe. So, it is important to remember that Kentucky banks have always prided themselves on being there for their customers and communities. Kentucky banks take their position as key figures in the local economy seriously and will do whatever they can to ensure that safety and soundness are not compromised. Our families are part of those communities as well - bankers are your neighbors.

For those customers who still fear for the safety of their savings dollars, make sure that you understand how FDIC works. Here are some key points to remember:

- Money in the bank is still one of the most secure ways to save. Mutual funds and other investments are not FDIC insured and are subject to market fluctuations. Funds held in investment accounts may actually be less secure during disruptive economic times than more traditional savings.

- The FDIC was created to protect consumers and the banking industry. The FDIC holds more than $52 billion in assets to protect bank depositors, and that amount increases regularly through banks' assessments.

- A bank "failure" does not necessarily mean that the bank is "bankrupt." It means that the regulators, including the FDIC, are sufficiently concerned about the particular bank's operations that they take control of the bank and manage its operations until such time as the regulators are certain that it can maintain safety and soundness. Under such action, it is possible that customers will suffer no losses at all, even on deposits in excess of FDIC insurance amounts.

- Each customer is guaranteed a certain amount of FDIC insurance at each FDIC insured bank where he or she has accounts (which fully guarantees your deposits, at no cost to you, up to insurance limits). To understand FDIC insurance, in the simplest form, an individual is insured for $100,000 per bank on individual deposits.

That same customer can have an additional $250,000 coverage on certain retirement funds and an additional $100,000 coverage on funds held in joint accounts and, if named as a beneficiary on certain types of trusts, the same person can have an additional $100,000 in FDIC insurance.

Those limits apply at each bank that you hold deposits separately - thus, you might have more than $550,000 in FDIC insurance coverage at each separate institution where you have deposits. In addition, your bank may carry private insurance for deposits in excess of FDIC limits. The best way to determine if your deposits are covered is check with your bank. The vast majority of individual customers are sufficiently covered by FDIC limits.

The issue of safety and soundness of your bank and your money is not a simple one, and you should not rely on rumor, fear or mass media reports for making serious financial decisions - in good times or bad. Talk to your banker if you have concerns. They are there to help.

Sincerely,
Ballard W. Cassady Jr.

NICKELL-McGUIRE REUNION HELD; FOLK ART FOCUS

Dear Editor:

June 6, 2008 - Members of the Nickell families met in Louisville at Shawn Moore's D.D.S., family members of a clubhouse. Noah Nicks' son, Jerry, flew from California to South Bend, Ind., and joined him in driving on to Louisville. Bonetta and son, Phillip, came from Indiana. J.C. and son, Tim, drove from Winchester and Ohio. Donna and John came from Tolesborro, Ky. There were several others, but I did not get their names.

We had to attend my son Michael Bailey's burial service in Louisville in December 2007. He had complications from knee joint replacement one and a half years before, and the other knee's surgical procedure caused a fatal stroke. We had his ashes interred at his father's gravesite, and had two memorial plaques mounted on the tombstone: Michael, Army vet, Panama City Beach, Fla., and Stephen Navy officer veteran of six year's service from Seattle, Wash.

We wish to say thanks to County Judge Executive Tim Conley and his receptionist, Vanessa Elam, for getting the four long-needed cemetery signs posted on Hwy. 364, R.O.W. for Pioneer Jdg. S.W. McGuire Farm, vet "Big" Joseph Nickell and son, Joseph Desha Nickell, born in a log home on a 600 acre farm, later to be governor of Kentucky, Jdg. Cisco, who married a Nickell.

Also, W.P. Nickell (son-in-law of "Big" Joseph) cemetery on the other end of this historic farm.

Also Pioneer James and Nancy (wf.) Auxier Brown cemetery on the previous Ken Brown place, and Barter-Tradin-Store in my painting series titled, Matthew Folklife Community 1800-mid 1900s era.

I donated to MCHS and museum, 2006, Tony Adkins, president and director informed me recently that they do not have a room to display the art so they've decided to hang them in the county government complex, as more people come through there each day.

I told him that was great as the high school building was where I attended my freshman year, before we moved from the Nickell Ancestral Farm (as I had been born on the 50-acre Tarkiln Branch my dad had bought) before we moved to Indiana after my Grandma Nickell sold the 300-acre to Finley kennard.

I sent the county government complex an 11x17" laminated print with the historic data, to hang alongside the paintings as registered in my book at the J.F.K. Co. and Library of Congress. All the four Pioneer Family Farm and Cemetery names are registered in Alma M. Nickell's book since 1980 in the Library of Congress.

Now, with the outrageous gas prices, we are glad we traveled from the East to West Coasts with our small bus, and over into Mexico via south Texas.

We have exhibited our art works at N.E. Science Indn. 3-day symposium at the University of Tahlequah and El Reno Ok Art Fest, Community College, where all exhibitors got escorted in antique cars by member chauffeurs to the down parade, then to a dinner in the old Locomotive Rock Island Railway Museum.

Also, we just did a Native American Veteran Council Powwow at the Tinker Air Force Base. There was fighter jet honor flyover salute for one of their female troops killed in Iraq recently.

Recently, the Oklahoma Archeological, Anthropological and Historical societies had a dig of remnants and revealed part of the foundation of the 1824 Old Ft. Gibson Stockade. This was used as a military base for the Indian Removal Act of the Five Tribes, and arrival of the early settlers and Civil War battles. They battled outlaws and squatters, and mediated between the tribal battles.

The fort played an important role in Oklahoma's history. They closed it in 1890. It was rebuilt by the WPA in 1935-1936. It was used by the federal government to register the five Indian Tribes Territory Lands via the Dawes Commission. Then in 1807, assigned homesteaders pioneers claimed land in the government's unassigned Indian Land Strip in Oklahoma's panhandle.

The dig uncovered artifacts such as plates, bowls, forks, knives, bones from fish, deer, cattle, bison, chickens and turtles, which indicated a range of food items consumed by the fort's occupants.

Spiro Mound's prehistoric significance and other projects help us understand this land we call Oklahoma.

The Muzzleloading Association from Oklahoma and Texas, which was started in 1986 and has 25 members, had an annual Rendezvous including black powder, knapper, trappers, traders, knife throwing, Tomahawk throwers, beads, horns, hides in a lantern-lit circle. The reenactors dressed in the 1850s style.

The historica society sponsors annual living history events at the Battle of the Washita near Ft. Supplyand Ft. Sil. We exhibited at Ft. Gibson's 175th anniversary approximately eight years ago after we first came to Oklahoma.

Reenactors of the above events performed as well as the Civil War military. My husband, Paul, asked one of the Yankees who could they win all the time. he replied we have to let the Confederates win sometimes or they won't came back and play with us anymore!

Allens mark 55th wedding anniv. at Hilton Head

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Allen celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary with their family at Hilton Head Island, S.C. It was an enjoyable week for all, especially since all of the family was together, including their three sons and wives, and five grandchildren: Hank, Charlotte and Chas Allen; Perry, Robin, Abbey, Chelsea and Amy Allen; and Bill, Ingrid and Beau Allen.

Perry and Bill live in Lexington.

After their last evening meal, a life sketch was read of the Allen family, which included some humorous experiences, and the Allens were presented an anniversary cake.

They were joined one evening for dinner by Sammy and Cheryl Wolf and daughters Sadie and Samantha, who reside at Hilton Head. They are friends of Hank and Charlotte, and Barbara and the late Jimmy Perry.

Henry Lowell and Anna Jean were married July 11, 1953, at the First United Methodist Church in Gatlinburg, Tenn., with Anna Jean's sister, Helen Price Stacy and Henry, and Chalmer and Selma Allen as attendants.

GOD OUR MAKER

Every tree upon the mountain side is numbered, at the gentle breath of God, their branches move. When the heart of God is touched, the tears start falling, to this earth they fall, through clouds of white and blue.

He made the rocks, He made the trees, tell me who but God can do such things as these? He makes the clouds, He makes the rain. He is great and He is worthy of our praise.

My God can take a hopeless life that's torn by sin, in exchange He gives sweet peace and joy within. How He does this I could never fully tell. But I know, when God performs He does things well.

Jimmy never failed to display his pest manners. But he had a teacher who put Christian love into action, and she noticed some improvement.

Parents' Night came, and his workbook was displayed. The first half had silly pictures and curse words.

His parents found his workbook. They opened it and smiled approvingly. Amazed, he hurried to it and discovered the first half had been removed. Only the improved pages remained.

"Why?" he asked.

"Jesus took the spoiled pages out from my life," said his teacher, "and He'll do the same for your life, if you let Him."

Won't you?

FOUR THINGS MONEY CAN'T BUY

You can win it with love, or a tender caress, and a trinket once in a while. But you can't, with all the wealth in the world, buy a tiny baby's smile. All the power on earth can't stop old time from constantly rolling on. And all the gold that this world can hold can't bring back youth when it's gone, and though you possess the wealth of kings and castles that reach to the sky, a good friend's love, so faithful and true, is something that money can't buy. They say a man's reach should exceed his grasp or what is Heaven for? The sublimest thing that money can't buy is a pass through Heaven's door.

Social Security's Home Page Has New Look

Social Security's home page has a brand new look. In June, we launched a new home page at www.socialsecurity.gov.

The new look is more welcoming and user-friendly. It follows the standard for design principles in the industry by reducing clutter, improving navigation, making better use of graphics, reducing the need to scroll down and prioritizing items on the page.

The new page focuses on the primary reasons people contact Social Security. We put those items front and center. The three main topics that take up the prime real estate are:

- Filing for retirement benefits.
- Applying for disability benefits.
- Requesting a Social Security card.

Meanwhile, major program topics run along the top of the page — Retirement, Survivors, Disability, Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Medicare. The

Mr. Perry was baptized many years ago and lived a Christian life. He was preceded in death by his wife of 60 years, Vona Cassity Perry; three brothers, Corbitt, Ollen, and Arnold; and two sisters, Versie and Verlie.

Survivors include one son, Ernie Dale (Sharon) Perry, of Russell; two daughters, Rita (Jim) Patrick, of Kenova, West Virginia, and Donna (Charles) Morgan, of Maysville; five grandsons, Michael Perry, David (Gina) Perry, Charlie (Sonya) Patrick, Ross Morgan, and Brad (Lindsay) Morgan; one granddaughter, Sarah (Dana) Smith; one great grandson, Warren Smith; and three great granddaughters, Carmen Smith, Cassity and Isabella Patrick; numerous nephews, nieces, and other relatives and friends.

Ernie served in the Civilian Conservation Corps from 1938-1939. Afterwards, he enlisted in the U.S. Navy in October 1940 and served until December 1946. He served on the Aircraft Carrier U.S.S. Wasp CV-7 in the North Atlantic, Mediterranean, and South Pacific and survived the sinking of this ship at Guadalcanal in September 1942. Afterwards, he went aboard the newly commissioned Aircraft Carrier U.S.S. Princeton CVL-23 serving in Task Force 58 during nine South Pacific battles and survived the sinking of this ship at Leyte Gulf in October 1944.

During his Navy service, he earned twelve Battle Stars. He was also at the two Bikini Atoll Atomic Bomb tests in 1946. After his Navy service, he came home to Morgan County, Kentucky, prior to moving to Greenup County in 1952. He worked at Allied Chemical in South Point, Ohio until the plant closed. He returned to his love of farming and caring for the land.

Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m. Friday, July 18, at Preston Family Funeral Home, with Minister David Roach officiating. Burial followed in Bellefonte Memorial Gardens with Preston Family Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests expressions of sympathy take the form of donation to the Cassity Cemetery Fund. These may be made at the funeral home.

Minnie Mullins, a Morgan County native, has received successful therapy treatment at Life Care Center of Morehead following a stroke in November 2007.

Mullins experiences success at Morehead Life Care Ctr.

Always a speaker of "plain words" (exactly how she likes to put it), Ms. Minnie Mullins, a Morgan County native, realized her words were not as easily understood as before. In fact, not only was her speech affected, she had paralysis of her right arm and both legs. Her swallowing was affected as well. She was not able to eat the "plain country food" she had always eaten. This all came about after a brainstem stroke the day after Thanksgiving in 2007.

Ms. Mullins knew that "plain work" was going to be required for improvement. With a "hard row to hoe" set before her, she knew her faith in God and help of therapists from Life Care Center of Morehead could improve her abilities back to how they had once been.

Upon her arrival to the Life Care Center, Ms. Mullins required the use of a special Hoyer lift and two nursing assistants to transfer from a bed to a wheelchair. Once she was in the wheelchair, she was dependent upon another to push her to any destination. As for swallowing, she was only able to eat every soft food that required very little swallowing ability. She lacked compensatory strategies for eating and swallowing regular food. Talking was very difficult as those "plain words" she spoke came out very soft because of weakness.

A very different picture of Ms. Mullins is painted today. Through her hard work, guided by the therapists of Life Care Center of Morehead, she is returning to the Minnie her family and friends knew before the stroke. She can now stand with the assistance of one person. She is getting out of bed without the use of that special Hoyer lift. Once out of bed, she now has the use of a power chair (thanks to a very gracious donation to Life Care) to go wherever she pleases – even to her grandson's wedding this past spring she would have otherwise missed.

Ms. Mullins's ability to take care of her personal needs have also improved. Through hand strengthening and training, she is now able to apply her own makeup every morning. Speech exercises for breath support and vocal awareness have helped Minnie speak those "plain words" loud and precisely so that she can be heard easily.

She has also been known to resume one of her favorite hobbies – singing gospel hymns. Since her eating has improved with swallowing therapy, she and the Occupational Therapist have made good use of the new ADL suite with a full kitchen. In the kitchen they prepared Minnie's specialty, "Earthquake Cake." (Call her for the recipe, she can tell you in her "plain words.")

If you have a loved one who would benefit from the skilled therapy offered at Life Care Center, please contact Jenny Isenhoff, rehab services manager, at 606-784-7518.

Callahan releases second 'Kentucky Summers' novel

Morgan County born novelist Tim Callahan has announced that the second book in the popular Morgan County based Kentucky Summers series is now available. The new novel is entitled Coty and the Wolf Pack. It follows the successful debut from writer Tim Callahan, The Cave, The Cabin, & The Tattoo Man.

Tim Callahan

The first book has been read by 7 to 98-year-olds. Tim says he's told it's unusual for a book to be so well-liked by all generations. Children and teenagers read the book and then pass it on to their parents and vice-versa. Entire families are reading the book and then having discussions about the novel - compared by some to Tom Sawyer.

The action in the books that place mainly in Oak Hills and Blairs Mills, where Mr. Callahan was born. The book's covers are from local scenes in the area. The first book in the series featured a picture on the cover taken by Donna Elam. Coty and the Wolf Pack has a cover showing the tunnel that the creek passes through north of Wrigley taken by the novelist himself.

Mr. Callahan says The Cave, The Cabin, & The Tattoo Man was selected during the past year for the Southern Book Fair in Nashville, the Kentucky Book Fair in Frankfort, the Ohio River Book Festival in Huntington, W.V. and the Bluegrass Book Festival in Lexington. The author has had the opportunity to talk to students in many schools in Ohio and Kentucky where the book is being read in numerous classrooms.

Mr. Callahan writes in his acknowledgements of Coty and the Wolf Pack: "When The Cave, The Cabin, & The Tattoo Man was published I wasn't sure if there would even be a second book for the Kentucky Summers Series. I have you readers to thank for making it happen. I thank you for buying the book and for the many kind comments and stories you have shared with me about the book. I enjoyed meeting so many of you at book fairs and festivals. This year has been a blast. Only God could have taken the story and affected the many lives that the book has. I praise our Lord for placing His hands on mine and orchestrating the writing."

In August the author has another novel being released, a romantic-comedy entitled Sleepy Valley which takes place in the Smoky Mountains area of Tennessee. After writing the first two books he took a break from the series to see how they would sell and wrote Sleepy Valley. You can read the first chapter of the novel on his website at: HYPERLINK "http://www.timcallahan.net" www.timcallahan.net, where you can also order his books. The third book in the series is close to being completed and expected to be released in 2009.

He will be selling his books again at the Sorghum Festival or you can buy them at Elam's Furniture in West Liberty. Happy reading.

Dealing with the extreme summer heat

Each year, more people in the United States die from extreme heat than from hurricanes, tornadoes, floods and earthquakes combined. During 1979-1998, a total of 7,421 deaths in the United States were attributed to excessive heat exposure.

On average, approximately 300 people die each year from exposure to heat. This year, extreme heat is of particular concern because of the energy problems facing many areas of the country.

Air conditioning is the number one protective factor against heat-related illness and death. Brownouts that last a few hours will likely have little effect on people's health.

Deadline nears for County Committee nominations

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Farm Service Agency reminds farmers, ranchers and other agricultural producers they have until August 1, 2008, to nominate eligible candidates to serve on local FSA county committees.

"County committees are important because they help deliver federal programs, which is an important aspect of our service to agriculture," said Teresa Lasseter, administrator of USDA's Farm Service Agency. "I encourage all producers to get involved by nominating eligible candidates to serve on county committees."

"I especially urge producers to nominate beginning farmers and ranchers, as well as minorities and women. Helping beginning farmers and ranchers is a USDA priority under the new farm bill. Having these producers in the county committees will help us build a strong future for our next generation of agricultural businesses and communities."

FSA county committees help local farmers through their decisions on commodity price support loans, conservation programs and disaster programs, and by working closely with county executive directors.

To hold office as a county committee member, a person must participate or cooperate in a program administered by FSA, be eligible to vote in a county committee election and reside in the local administrative area in which the person is a candidate. A complete list of eligibility requirements and additional information are posted online at <http://www.fsa.usda.gov>; click on the "FSA Counts on You" Spotlight.

Individuals may nominate themselves or others as candidates. FSA encourages beginning farmers and ranchers, as well as minorities and women, to file a nomination form on their own behalf. Anyone interested in conducting grazing activity on CRP acreage under this declaration, must contact the local Farm Service Agency Service Center for approval before any grazing activity takes place. All nomination forms for the 2008 election must be postmarked or received in the local USDA Service Center by close of business on August 1, 2008.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting your local FSA Service Center.

Cougars to run Wing-T offense

By David Patrick

There's no shortage of excitement or optimism in the Cougar football camp. With about three dozen players on the practice field, Coach Jake Purnell has begun the process of installing an offense. And it's a playbook geared toward showcasing Morgan County's athleticism.

"We'll run a Wing-T offense with lots of speed in the backfield," Purnell said on Tuesday. "I feel that speed, along with athleticism, are definitely the strengths of this team. And any coach will tell you there's no substitute for speed."

The Wing-T works by controlling the edge and being able to turn the corners. All plays work the same basic way. The offensive line blocks for the running back, who utilizes his speed to turn the corner. The beauty of the system is the surprise element of misdirection. Once the defense starts over committing, the counter back runs to the weak side.

"We'll run everything in our offense with play action," Purnell said. "If the defense brings eight guys up in the box, we'll burn you deep."

The Wing-T offense is designed for the ground game, but is equally dependent on the constant deep-ball threat. Halfbacks Ryan Flannery and Brandon Havens will get the bulk of the carries, while Jared Curd is expected to start at quarterback.

"If Ryan and Brandon will block for each other, they'll be deadly," said Purnell. "Both players have great speed and have come a long way in learning and accepting their roles. Jared is an intelligent young man who'll be asked to distribute the football. As long as his O-line can give him time, we're confident that Jared can get the job done."

The recent addition of Cameron Dunn and Joel Nickell give the Cougars a pair of receivers and give Curd the option of throwing the ball downfield. Dunn and Nickell, along with other welcomed newcomers, have also led to an equipment shortage.

"Believe it or not, we've already run out of large helmets," said Purnell. "I've got to inform Chris Trusty that we need more gear, but I don't think he'll mind. That's a good problem to have."

Coach Purnell and family are tracking down talent

By David Patrick

The numbers game – or the lack thereof. It has been a problem that has plagued Morgan County football for years. Even during the best of summers, Cougar football coaches have struggled for 15 or 20 players in late July.

But Jake Purnell has found a way to beat odds. The new Cougar coach promised early to get kids on the practice field. He has not disappointed with 33 players dressed and reporting for duty on Monday.

"People tell me that it is probably the highest total in the last 10 years," Purnell said. "In reality, the numbers are even better with that. I had a few kids not able to practice, so we're actually closer to 40."

Purnell has not had to go it alone in his recruitment of local talent. His wife, Lori, and sons, Josh and Jacob, are doing their part in helping the cause.

"Any young man in this county who looks even remotely athletic is being recruited by the family," Purnell said. "Everywhere my wife and kids go, they're asking guys to play. My family is a great recruiting tool.

"The other day, one of my sons saw someone he didn't recognize and asked them why they weren't playing football. Turns out, he was about 23 years old. But that's the attitude my kids have. They won't rest until every kid who can is playing football."

Another thing that is working in Purnell's favor is word of mouth. The returning players have bought into their coach's system and are encouraging others to do the same. Cameron Dunn and Joel Nickell – who play both basketball and baseball – have now made their way to the football field. Kyle Havens and Brandon Havens are in uniform as well – giving the Cougars much-needed speed and athleticism.

"These kids see that I have a plan that will work," Purnell said. "It's a matter of mutual respect. I don't come in there screaming and yelling and making demands. I respect them as players and know they'll give me everything they've got to win football games."

Lisa A. Ahlstedt

Lisa A. Ahlstedt is honored by KCTCS in Lexington

Lisa A. Ahlstedt, librarian at Southeast Kentucky Community and Technical College (SKCTC), was honored as the 2008 Staff Ward of Excellence recipient at a Kentucky Community and Technical College recognition banquet on Monday, May 19, in Lexington.

She was among 33 KCTCS faculty and staff members recognized at the New Horizons (an annual conference for KCTCS faculty and staff) awards banquet.

Each of the 16 KCTCS college selected an outstanding staff member and outstanding faculty member for 2008. One staff member from the KCTCS System Office in Versailles was also honored.

Ahlstedt was chosen for the statewide honor by a committee of her peers, and received $1,000 to be used for the professional development experience of her choice. As a representative of her college, she also attended the national Institute for Staff and Organizational Development meeting in Austin, Texas, in May.

"The selection process is not an easy task," KCTCS President Michael B. McCall said. "Each year the President's Leadership Seminar graduates spend hours reviewing portfolios submitted by the college nominees."

Each nominee demonstrated leadership in every aspect of their lives, including community involvement, student outreach, professional development and support for their college.

"Lisa Ahlstedt is a remarkably talented individual who cares passionately about the college, its students, and her work in the library," said KCTC President Bruce Ayers. "She is an intelligent, hardworking individual who reflects the very best that our colleges and KCTCS have to offer."

Lisa Ahlstedt is the daughter of Kaye Montgomery and Larry Hopkins. She is the granddaughter of Carl and the late Alka Montgomery, of Salyersville, and the late Polly and Arnel Hopkins, of West Liberty. She is a graduate of Morgan County High School and Morehead State University, and has graduate degrees from the University of Tennessee and Eastern Kentucky University.

She has worked at the Middleboro Campus of Southeast Kentucky Community and Technical College in Middlesboro since 1995, and is a Professor/Librarian I. She and her husband, Hans, reside in Knoxville, Tenn.

Legend retains GPTT Title vs. Tex in best GPTT match ever

By Mike Crase

It was a match for the ages featuring two players putting it all on the line in a match that deserves to be called the best GPTT match ever, and with over 17 years of history, that's saying something. It was reminiscent of the movie "Rocky," where the two combatants were playing on heart and emotion with spectacular play after spectacular play. Pride Champion (1) 'Tex' Cody Risner had just successfully defended his title against (4) 'Joker' Greg Helton to earn a shot at the GPTT Champion 'The Legend' Byron Risner. Tex started off red hot, winning the first three games of the series; it looked as if a new champion was ready to be crowned. However, The Legend would stage one of the league's greatest comebacks ever, winning three straight games of his own.

The seventh and final game of the series was a war of attrition. Tex was up 10 to 8, putting The Legend on the ropes, but the champ reeled off two straight points to tie the game, putting it into deuce (the first player to score two points wins the match). Both players played relentlessly and were tied four different times in deuce but The Legend got the last point when Tex missed a close serve that almost hit the edge, ending the game and series with a 15-13 classic.

One thing is for sure, Tuesday Pong is the place to be if you want to see table tennis action like this.

GPTT has implemented a new format called the ladder system. Fundamentally, the system works just like climbing a ladder. The two lowest ranked players begin the ladder and climb up a position with a win. For example, if 10 played 9, and 10 won, then 10 would play 8 and so on. The format got rave reviews from players and spectators alike. "It really provides a true outcome as to who is the best on each night," said three-time former GPTT Champion 'The Joker' Greg Helton.

GPTT would like to welcome veteran Breathitt County player Les Ramsey to the league. He is a class act and a great player. Les is teaming with West Liberty great Langley Franklin in doubles action, and the two are proving to be a formidable team to say the least. At our July 15 Tuesday

Pong weekly meet we had four counties represented: Morgan, Breathitt, Johnson, and Magoffin. We would also like to encourage anyone who wants to play to come to the Community Center on Tuesdays at 6:30 p.m. We have five top quality tables and we're looking forward to continued growth at the Center. A special thanks goes out to Frederick and May Lumber Co., The Licking Valley Courier, and Potter Funeral Home Inc. for sponsoring our biggest event of the year Grand Stand III, which was a huge success. For more information on joining GPTT, call us at 606-662-4012, or 606-662-6332.
